Beginning of the Voyage

The "Jamestown Festival" has been chosen the theme of the 1957 Missile. It commemorates the founding of the first permanent English settlement in America three hundred and fifty years ago.

The early settlers of this colony set out in their ships, the "Godspeed", the "Discovery", and the "Sarah Constant", to a new life in a new world. We, the seniors, also began a new life when we entered high school three years ago.

This new life was a challenge to each and every one of us, both scholastically and socially. We adapted ourselves to a life of more freedom and more responsibility.

We, like those early settlers, have endured many hardships from the first. Although we have had disappointments and trials, we have at last completed our voyage.

The women of Jamestown were a great inspiration to their men and to their families. They played a great role in the start of the new world because they helped to preserve high ideas for the men and to encourage them.

Miss Laura A. Meredith is also a help and an inspiration to her students and her friends. As a Latin teacher, she has helped to create a better understanding of this difficult language. She always tries to bring out the best qualities in a student and to look to the best side of her students. She helps to create high ideals and high standards in a person. Miss Meredith is an outstanding teacher at Petersburg High School and commands the admiration of all.

Advisory Council

THE ADVISORY COUNCIL OF JAMESTOWN was a help and inspiration to the early settlers. Through their guidance and understanding the settlers were able to endure their hardships and continue onward in their new world.

When our journey seemed difficult and endless, we were given courage and faith by our advisory council, the faculty of Petersburg High School. They have gone far beyond their goal of teaching by advising and helping us in our many school activities.

Words alone cannot express our devotion and gratitude for the love and kindness shown to us by our advisory council.

Lords

The highest class of people at Jamestown were the Lords. In times of tribulations and hardships in the colony, they displayed their nobility. They urged every person to do his share in making the settlement a success. The Lords represent us, the Senior Class of 1957.

We are looked upon as the leaders of our school and have done much in setting an example for those who follow us. We have shown them how to participate in activities and how to keep the spirit of Petersburg High School alive.

May the Class of 1957 be remembered, and may its standard of leadership be upheld by the senior classes of the future.

Colonial Portraits

Portraits must be a true representative of the persons whom they picture. They must symbolize high ideals that were fought for and won by our colonial forefathers; they must stand for the principles that the people of today still seek.

Because time passes on in a never ceasing current, these colonial portraits may become dingy and dusty with age. It is not the beauty of the portrait that people will remember, but the person or thing for which it stands.

A portrait remains dearest to the family to which it belongs, no matter what its actual features are.

So it is with these Colonial Portraits. May they ever be cherished by the students of Petersburg High School and the Senior class of 1957.

Commons

We cannot all be leaders. In every phase of life there are the leaders and the followers. In Jamestown the Lords led the Commons in making the settlement a success.

The communal form of living was practiced in the colony. Everyone was depended on to do his share of work. We, the underclassmen, did our share by participating in school activities and by keeping the standard of our school high.

The seniors have shown us their ability in leadership and have set a good example for us to follow. We, in turn, will accept the challenge of leadership when we assume their position as seniors.

Activities in the Colony

The people of Jamestown spent their leisure time by participating in various forms of activities. These activities provided pleasure and enjoyment to the colonists. They also provided relief from the daily labor of establishing a colony.

We have enjoyed a broad program of extra-curricular activities at Petersburg High School. Each student has had an opportunity to take part in one or more of these activities. By participation in various clubs one acquires a sense of responsibility in making his club a success, as did those early settlers in making their colony a success.

Our activities play a large part in our school life. Without them our school would lack spirit and unity.

DO NOT SWIM ALONE

Recreation in the Colonies

During the days of the early settlers, sports were not as we know them now. Baseball, football, and basketball did not come into existence until the late nineteenth century, and the most important of the sports was hunting.

In addition to hunting, the colonists could fish, play cards, go horseback riding and play duckpins, which has evolved to our present day bowling.

The colonists at Jamestown did not have as much time for the sports they brought over from the old world as we spend in sports now, and they did not have any really popular sports as our "big three" in present days.

Whether in old times or new, the spirit behind the sports has continued the same, to win but yet to win fairly. From the colonists to the present day America, the people of the United States have been noted for their sense of fair play in sports.

Starting the season with only three lettermen—outfielders, Larry Belcher and Ronnie Walker, and first baseman-pitcher, Captain Ronald Pond—the 1956 Wave won 5 of their game card. Hustle and spirit made up for inexperience and lack of hitting which plagued the Wave during most of the season. The climax of the season was the last game when Ronald Pond threw a four-hitter against Thomas Jefferson, knocking them out of the Central District championship. Catcher Duke Poe led the team in hitting with a .257 average. Two Wave men made the Second All-Central District Team: outfielder, Ronnie Walker and first baseman, Ronald Pond.

GOOD GAS SERVICE MAKES WARM FRIENDS

CONGRATULATIONS, GRADUATES!

Although now, you are graduates, you can do a great service for the rest of us, if you never cease to be students — looking for opportunities and ways to cherish the American system of free enterprise and to improve the American way of life. You can be thankful for free schools in a country where you are free to worship and work and think and talk as you please. This is your heritage from the people who built America.

THE FUTURE is pretty largely in your hands — you must be vigilant and active to combat the evils of socialism, government domination of private industry, and all the "isms" that destroy democracy. We depend upon you to do a good job.

GOOD LUCK!

Brave New World

As our high school life comes to a close, each of us will go our separate ways. We will enter into a brave new world as the Jamestown settlers did many years ago. May they serve as an ideal in our life ahead.

This thought is well expressed by President Dwight David Eisenhower in a letter addressed to the chairman of the Jamestown Festival Celebration.

"It is important for us to call to memory the great achievements of our forefathers in hewing out of the wilderness a new nation. The founding of the first permanent English settlement in 1607 at Jamestown, Virginia; the establishment there of the first representative form of government in the New World; the flowering of Colonial culture at Williamsburg and the winning of American independence at Yorktown are important milestones in our nation's history. The commemoration of these events will increase the understanding and appreciation of our rich heritage."
